Kids shine the lights

Matariki we recognise as an opportunity to celebrate with family and friends, allowing us to come together to reflect on and share the important work our tamariki do while in play at Weka.

Last year we missed this celebration due to COVID 19, so we felt this year was hugely significant. Reaching out and pulling together as one, by connecting as a community in lighting up our special Ivy Russell reserve with the work of the Winton Communities Tamariki, was very special. The work of the children, to naturally create with real materials, brings to light their creative minds, they way they think outside the box and see the beauty beyond what the product is on first sight. It was visible on the night that all the ECE learning services involved have the same thinking towards allowing children to learn in nature, celebrate Matariki and recognise its importance.

Banking Help Available

A couple of weeks ago I arranged for Jubilee Budgeting Services to come out and share with our community the ways that they are able to assist people with their future banking needs particularly with the demise of cheques and also the closure of our local banks.

Jubilee see that there are three main areas of concern for residents;

- those that can use technology
- those that need to set up a system at the bank and then learn how to make use of it and
- those people with no technology options.

Clearly those people who already use technology are probably well under control of their on-line finances by now. However, if you are still feeling unsure, help to become more familiar is available.

For those of you who would like to set yourselves up with internet banking but are still feeling overwhelmed by this, Jubilee have team members who can go to the bank with you and then spend some time work your way through the systems until you become confident in doing it yourself.

If these options are not for you, Jubilee Budgeting Services can offer you the option of their Money Management service.

This option requires you to make an appointment and sit down with one of their team, you can work out how much money each week/fortnight you would like to be direct debited to their Trust account (in your name) and then they will take care of paying your accounts on your behalf. This is a great option particularly for our older generation who may or may not have family members around to help with finances.

As a side to the talk from Jubilee, I also invited Emma from Age Concern to speak on the topic of Elder Abuse which unfortunately can come hand in hand when family members are helping manage your finances as things become more difficult for you to understand.

Emma shared some shocking statistics with the group, those being; 81% of Elder Abuse is committed by family members or those in a relationship of trust, 50% of cases involve financial abuse and 57% of Elder Abuse cases are committed by adult children or grandchildren. Some of the risks of allowing other people to make financial and property choices for you could be;

- someone could withdraw

money from bank accounts without your consent

- selling or transferring your assets in ways you don't agree with
- denying you money for the things you need
- not paying back loans as agreed
- pressuring you to change your will or give access to your bank accounts
- expecting you to support them - paying their bills, buying them groceries or sharing your home.

So, if you are concerned that someone you know is taking advantage of you or if someone is asking you for money in a way that makes you uncomfortable, please know that support is available to help you stay in control.

Contact Louise at Winton Community Support who will help you make contact with the people and services who offer free and confidential advocacy, information and support.

Senior Citizen happenings

As the colder weather settles upon us, we at the Senior Citizens are trying to keep busy with various entertainment options and activities. Our clubrooms on John Street are a warm and comfortable refuge on a miserable winter's day. Activities include weekly Indoor Bowls, '500', Euchre, Housie where we play for grocery items and a monthly concert with a variety of lively entertainers. Later this month is our annual Mid-Winter Christmas luncheon.

This year we have decided to get a caterer in and so we are looking forward to an enjoyable meal and good company. In coming months, we will be looking at arranging a bus trip which is always a good day out! During the winter months we are invited to join in on a Soup and Chat luncheon which is provided by Winton Community Support, courtesy of Vickery Trust funding. This is a popular interlude with interesting speakers chatting about local happenings all in a relaxed and casual atmosphere.

We have a small activity corner and a shared produce box so if anyone has any garden produce, eggs or similar they would like to share with our members please feel free to drop it in to the rooms. Someone is usually around in the afternoons from 1.30-3.30pm or drop it in to Louise at Winton Community Support.

Our clubrooms are available for rent, at very reasonable rates, most mornings and the odd afternoon. Contact our Secretary May Hishon for more information, 020 410-81543. If you would like to become a member of the Senior Citizens please contact Mary Hishon, we would love to see you.

WINTON NEWSLETTER

NOVEMBER, 1972

As a nervous young man I started my apprenticeship as a "Commercial Hand Typographer" on 3rd September 1962 at the printing business called the Winton Record. Scotty and Margaret Kilkerr were the owner/operators and the building was on the site where the saddlery is now at 319 Great North Road. The old building was one for the history books with many old printed posters featuring on the walls.

In those early days we printed the "Winton Newsletter" for the Winton Businessmen's & Citizens' Association. I can't remember when they gave it away but Winton Record Ltd took over the idea and called it The Winton Record.

In those early years all the printing was done by the "letterpress" method which involves solid type being inked and applied to the paper or card. There was no such things as computers or the like so all the fancy work was hand set type (individual letters composed into lines of type by hand) and the bulk text was linotype (solid lines of wording composed on a linotype machine). When I started we did not have one so had that type set up at the Southland Times. Later we acquired 2 linotypes and were able to cast lines of type from 6 point to 36 point. This was a dramatic turn around. The used lead was melted down and reused many times over.

Printing logos and pictures was not simple. We needed to send the artwork away to a block maker to cast us a zinc block which had the picture or design etched into the surface.

Then along came offset printing and this all changed. An image was created by different methods and a plate made which was attached to an offset press. This was a quicker and smoother method. With this method the need for typesetting machines was developed. The first one I used was a computer with straight type-writer wording on the screen and the wording was applied to photographic paper which had to be put through a developer to get the image. This was then cut up and pasted up to make the pages. Then the plate made and applied to the press.

Later along came more sophisticated typesetting computers which laid out the whole page and also the whole book. In all those procedures a folded sheet gives 4 pages so all newsletters that were folded sheets were in multiples of 4 pages.

Now we are in the electronic digital age anything is possible and colour is king. If an item of news is supplied on-line it is a simple process to fit it in to a page and no proof reading is required.

I hope the "Winton Newsletter" continues to be published in it's current format for a long time yet as it keeps the community informed on local events and news.

Staying Healthy this Winter

The flu can be anywhere, the best chance to stay healthy if you are elderly is to get immunised. It is free to get a flu jab if you are over 65 and I'm guessing most of you will have had it by now. These are available from the medical centre or the pharmacy. For the rest of us, following some basic hygiene practices will help to keep us all healthy.

- Wash your hands regularly or use an alcohol-based hand rub
- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze, then dispose
- Cough or sneeze into your elbow if a tissue is not available
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth
- Don't share drinks
- Avoid crowded places
- Stay home if you are unwell

The roll out for the free COVID 19 vaccine is due to start soon.

The vaccines that have been approved for a use in New Zealand have been tested and assessed by New Zealand Medicines and Medical Devices Safety Authority (Medsafe).

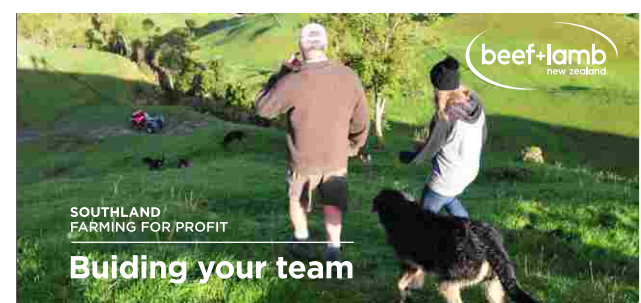

It is Medsafes responsibility to approve all vaccines for use in New Zealand, so while the process for COVID vaccines have been streamlined and they have pushed them ahead of other vaccine applications, they have all met the same standards for safety that all vaccines used in New Zealand are expected to meet.

The COVID-19 vaccine is compatible with most medications.

Your Doctor or Health Professional will contact you when you are able to be vaccinated for COVID 19. Please be aware that there are some scams currently running asking you for a payment to secure your COVID-19 vaccine. Remember the COVID-19 vaccine is free.

At NO point will you be asked to pay for the vaccines.

I still have a few bottles of hand sanitiser available, if anyone would like one, please pop in to my office at the rear of the maternity Clinic or give me a ring on 236-9934.
